

Sue Brooke

Speaker, Trainer, Author, Business & Marketing Strategist, Relationship Marketing/Networking Expert

Story Sue moved to Sonoma County after meeting a sister through Ancestry DNA! She shares how she built a tribe of Raving Fans in just a few short months, after moving to a new community, and how she builds her businesses purely by building relationships.

Bio Sue Brooke brings a plethora of valuable knowledge and resources from 30+ years of working side-by-side with business and marketing influencers, starting and growing businesses, coaching and training entrepreneurs, business owners, CEOs, and customer service and sales professionals.

She is a serial entrepreneur, having founded successful businesses by mastering the art of networking and building relationships while providing outstanding value to her clients.

Sue is passionate about sharing her extensive knowledge and expertise, and loves finding the best tools and resources to help entrepreneurs and businesses save time, make more money, and help more people!

As a business networking speaker, keynote speaker, breakout session trainer, or workshop leader, Sue will bring actionable steps and strategies for your attendees.
